

TEXAS STATE BOARD REPORT

TEXAS STATE BOARD OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTANCY, AUSTIN, TEXAS

Peer Review and You / by Joseph Richardson

Do you perform attest services?

Do you perform audits? reviews? compilations?

Do you perform projections or special reports?

If you perform any of these engagements, you are required to participate in peer review. Staying abreast of your peer review status is an important part of your professional obligations. Those obligations are spelled out in full in Rule 527.4 of the Texas Administrative Code:

Participation in the program is required of each firm licensed or registered with the board that performs any attest service or any accounting and/or auditing engagements, including audits, reviews, compilations, forecasts, projections, or special reports. A firm which issues only compilations where no report is required under the Statements on Standards for Accounting and Review Services is required to participate in the program.

Pursuant to Section 901.159 of the Public Accountancy Act, the Board established the program to provide a means of enforcing professional standards in accounting, auditing, and attestation. The program includes education and remediation and allows the Board to take corrective measures when review by recognized standard-setting bodies reveals noncompliance with AICPA standards.

The Board adopts “Standards for Performing and Reporting on Peer Reviews” promulgated by the AICPA and, for public company audit firms, the standards required under the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 (SOX). The sponsoring organizations qualified to perform reviews are the Center for Public Company Audit Firms Peer Review Program, the AICPA Peer Review Program, state CPA societies fully involved in the administration of the AICPA Peer Review Program, the National Conference of CPA Practitioners, and the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (PCAOB).

Furthermore, if a firm begins performing such services when they had not in the past, Rule 527.4 requires the firm to notify the Board within 30 days of its change in status, provide the Board with enrollment information within 12 months of the date the services were first provided, and have a peer review performed within 18 months of the date the services were first provided. If a firm is subject to inspections pursuant to SOX and also performs attest work not subject to such inspections, the firm must enroll in a peer review program for review of its nonpublic company attest work in addition to the firm inspection program.

Keeping your peer review status current is the first step in avoiding problems with your firm license; the second is completing the Peer Review Affidavit on your annual renewal form—a step that is often overlooked. Failure to participate in the program as required—or failure to report your participation—can result in a hold on your firm license until in compliance. If you do not do any of the kinds of work mentioned here, you can apply for an exemption from peer review when you renew each year.

Must I register as a firm?

The answer to this often-asked question is, in most cases, yes. If you perform accounting work of any kind for a client, you should be registered as a firm.

Online Renewal Process Expected to Launch in May

Individual licensees will soon be able to complete the annual license renewal process online if they choose, although submitting a paper renewal will continue to be an option for the foreseeable future. The Board plans to have an online license renewal process available in May. The online renewal option will be phased in by birth month as individuals who are up-to-date on their licenses receive their annual “Individual License Notice” by mail. Notification of the online renewal option will be made as individuals link to their personal information through the “Check Your Status” selection on the Board’s website. Individuals who have the option to complete the annual license renewal online will have a new menu selection, “Annual License Renewal (pay online).”

The Board is anticipating a much smoother renewal process as the online renewal system is realized. The online renewal will be paper renewal will also be requested during completion of the online renewal. Licensees may find entering information on the paper renewal useful in organizing the information that must be reported during the online renewal process.

The table below shows the steps that will form the online “Annual License Renewal” and, for comparison, the corresponding area on the current paper renewal.

In step 4, licensees will report full-time and part-time areas of employment and may request retirement status, disability status, or exemption from payment of the professional fee because of state or federal government employment. In step 5, individuals may request an exemption from the requirement to report continuing professional education (CPE). In step 6, the licensee will report detailed information on each CPE course by classification as a technical, non-technical, or ethics course.

a multi-step process by which licensees will not only pay license fees, but also enter information that is currently required when submitting the paper renewal. During completion of the paper license renewal, licensees have viewed and entered information in 11 different areas. The online renewal will be a step-by step process that follows the pattern of the paper renewal.

All licensees will continue to receive a paper copy of the “Individual License Notice.” Any information requested on the

Once the required information has been entered in step 1 through step 7, licensees will be able to pay the license fees online. In step 8, the licensee will select MasterCard, American Express, Discover, or VISA as a payment method. The online renewal process will be completed in step 9 when specific credit card information is entered. After the process is completed, a receipt will be automatically sent to the email address provided. Licensees can be assured that the renewal site is a secured site.

Email Addresses Requested From All Licensees

To simplify communication with licensees, the Board is asking all licensees to provide email addresses. Licensees can easily submit an email address by selecting “Notification of Change - Contact Information” on the individual licensee menu on the Board’s website: www.tspba.state.tx.us. The Board will use the email addresses solely for communication with licensees and will not distribute them to anyone outside the Board.

B. PROPOSALS FOR DECISION1. Respondent: Jayne E. Board staff filed a complaint alleging that the respondent breached the terms of her May 12, 2005, Board order by failing to remit the Board's assessed administrative costs. The complaint notified the respondent of the requirement to file a written answer with the State Office of Administrative Hearings (SOAH) within 20 days of the date of the complaint.

Following a public hearing on December 5, 2006, an Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) of SOAH issued a Proposal for Decision (PFD) recommending that the respondent's certificate be suspended for five years, at the end of which she would be eligible to petition the Board for the right to return to practice after completing a peer review program. Staff timely filed exceptions to the PFD. The respondent did not file a reply to staff's exceptions, and the ALJ did not issue a response to staff's exceptions.

On February 20, 2007, the Behavioral Enforcement Committee (BEC) met to consider the PFD that issued in this matter. Upon review and deliberation, the BEC adopted a motion to ratify the PFD in part and to change the PFD in part. The PFD was changed to reflect that staff addressed the Board's authority to impose disciplinary action against the respondent's individual and firm licenses up to and including revocation. Further, the PFD was changed to reflect that the Board should impose a five (5) year suspension of the respondent's individual and firm licenses without imposing on the respondent the requirement that she complete a peer review program. Pursuant to the Board's order, the respondent must immediately provide the Board proof that she has ceased holding out to the public as a certified public accountant. Further, prior to completion of the period of suspension, the respondent must make payment to the Board of $11,094 in administrative costs as previously ordered by the Board in its May 12, 2005, Final Order concerning Complaint No. 04-01-02L.

A staff attorney represented the Enforcement Division at the hearing. The respondent appeared at the hearing and represented herself.

2. Respondent: Felicia Nell SmithHometown: Houston*Investigation No.: 06-02-38N*Docket No.: 457-07-0391*Act Violation: 901.451

On February 15 and August 11, 2006, Board staff sent notices to the respondent that the respondent was in violation of the Act by using the "CPA" designation although the respondent is not licensed in Texas. The respondent did not submit to the Board a timely response to the allegations. On October 5, 2006, Board staff filed a petition for a cease and desist order and notice of hearing against the respondent at the State Office of Administrative Hearings (SOAH).

Following a public hearing on November 15, 2006, an Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) of SOAH recommended that the Board issue a cease and desist order against the respondent that would prohibit the respondent and any of her agents, employees, or representatives from directly or indirectly assuming or using the title or designation "certified public accountant," the abbreviation "CPA," or any other title or abbreviation tending to indicate that she is a certified public accountant firm unless she holds a certificate under the Act; providing attest services or using the title "CPA," "CPA firm," "certified public accountant," "certified public accounting firm," "auditing firm," or any variation thereof until such time as she holds a firm license issued under the Act; assuming or using an abbreviation, title, or designation likely to be confused with "certified accountant," "chartered accountant," "enrolled accountant," or "licensed accountant;" issuing a report on a financial statement of another person or otherwise perform or offer to perform an attest service; and signing or affixing her name or any trade or assumed name used by her professionally or in any business to or otherwise issue any opinion on, report on, or certificate to any accounting or financial statement, unless she does so in accordance with the Act. The ALJ found that the respondent violated Act Section 901.451 regarding use of other titles or abbreviations.

A staff attorney represented the Enforcement Division at the hearing. The respondent did not appear and was not represented at the hearing.

3. Respondent: Mark Woods
Hometown: San Antonio
Investigation No.: 06-06-15N
Docket No.: 457-07-0305
Act Violation: 901.451

On June 30, 2006, Board staff sent notices to the respondent that the respondent was in violation of the Act by using the "CPA" designation although the respondent is not licensed in Texas. The respondent did not submit to the Board a timely response to the allegations. On September 28, 2006, Board staff filed a Petition for a Cease and Desist Order and Notice of Hearing against the respondent at the State Office of Administrative Hearings (SOAH). On January 8, 2007, Board staff filed a Notice of Hearing and First Amended Petition for a Cease and Desist Order against the respondent at SOAH.

Following a public hearing on February 8, 2007, an Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) of SOAH recommended that the Board issue a cease and desist order against the respondent that would prohibit the respondent and any of his agents, employees, or representatives from directly or indirectly assuming or using the title or designation "certified public accountant," the abbreviation "CPA," or any other title or abbreviation tending to indicate that he is a certified public accountant firm unless he holds a certificate under the Act; providing attest services or using the title "CPA," "CPA firm," "certified public accountant," "certified public accounting firm," "auditing firm," or any variation thereof until such time as he holds a firm license issued under the Act; assuming or using an abbreviation, title, or designation likely to be confused with "certified accountant," "chartered accountant," "enrolled accountant," or "licensed accountant;" issuing a report on a financial statement of another person or otherwise perform or offer to perform an attest service; and signing or affixing his name or any trade or assumed name used by him professionally or in any business to or otherwise issue any opinion on, report on, or certificate to any accounting or financial statement, unless he does so in accordance with the Act. The ALJ found that the respondent violated Act Section 901.451 regarding use of title or abbreviation for "certified public accountant."

A staff attorney represented the Enforcement Division at the hearing. The respondent did not appear and was not represented at the hearing.

Peer Assistance Program Is Just a Phone Call Away

The abuse of alcohol and other substances is a disease that can have serious and widespread consequences for its victims and for those around them. And it can kill a career.

CPAs, exam candidates, and accounting students who may be dealing with abuse issues, or with any of the mental health concerns that often result, have a ready source of help in the Accountants Confidential Assistance Network (ACAN; formerly the Concerned CPA Network).

Mandated under the Texas Health and Safety Code, the program has been endorsed by the Board and is administered by the Texas Society of CPAs, although you do not have to be a Society member to use these services. The program is funded by the TSBPA, the TSCPA, and tax-deductible charitable contributions. Recent additional funding and increased commitment from the Board and the Society have allowed expansion of the program to better serve its public.

By law, all of the program's communications and records are confidential, and staff and volunteers are prohibited from reporting or releasing any information to the Board in disciplinary matters without the CPA's permission.

"We are hopeful that increasing awareness of this program will allow CPAs, students, and exam candidates to recognize the need for help before substance abuse has negatively impacted them, their families, or their careers," said William Treacy, Board executive director. "That is why the Board is giving the program its full support."

CPAs are required to self-report DWIs when they renew their licenses each year. Although it recognizes that not everyone with a DWI has an abuse problem, the Board has been proactive in sending information about the program to those reporting DWIs in the hope that licensees will seek help if they need it. "It is our responsibility to protect the public," says Treacy, "and if a CPA gets needed help in the process, we have benefited in two ways."

Know the Warning Signs of Alcohol and Substance Abuse

- Do you make plans to "control" your drinking?
- Once you start drinking, do you "change your mind" and drink more or longer than planned?
- Are you willing to jeopardize your career in order to take illegal drugs?
- Do you drink specifically for the purpose of becoming intoxicated?
- Do you become restless, irritable or discontent when abstaining from alcohol and other drugs?
- Have you lost interest in the hobbies and activities you used to enjoy?
- Do you drive under the influence?
- Do you miss appointments, show up late, or call in sick because of drinking or other drugs?
- Are you angry or upset with others for causing professional or personal problems in your life?
- Do you drink or use drugs alone?
- Have you been unable to cut down or quit?
- Do you avoid important professional, family, or social activities?
- Is it taking more for you to become intoxicated?
- Do you ever have a drink in the morning?
- Are you searching for reasons to answer "no" to these questions?

If you think that you or someone you know can benefit from this program, please make a call to the program hotline: 1-866-766-2226.

With the recent hiring of Ken Laney as program director, ACAN now provides 24 hour a day/7 day a week access to its helpline: 1-866-766-2226. In the past the helpline was answered by a machine, and there was sometimes a delay in returning phone calls. Now the helpline is answered around the clock, and callers get more immediate assistance.

Laney, who is a CPA as well as a licensed attorney, knows first-hand how difficult it can be to reach out for help. He says he's very grateful that a CPA in the peer assistance program was there to help him put an end to substance abuse in his own life (he's been sober for 12 years). Laney says that staying sober was one of the few things in life he could never have done without help from someone he could identify with. His new role, he believes, is his way of giving back for the help he received a dozen years ago.

Since taking the program director position, Laney has been visiting treatment facilities, making and attending presentations, and developing materials. Because half of the calls to the hotline are from accounting students, the program will begin a university outreach effort in the third quarter of 2007.

Because social use of alcohol and drugs begins at an early age in this society, abusive patterns may be well established in one's youth and exacerbated by the stresses of everyday life, making it easy to cross the line into abuse. Along with the direct effects of substance abuse, individuals often need help with depression, anxiety or other emotional disorders. Volunteers are trained to make referrals to resources in all these areas.

The program operates under the belief that CPAs can best understand other CPAs, and recovering CPAs can best understand other CPAs who are in or can benefit from an assistance program. Thus, the peer assistance program uses volunteers who are recovering CPAs themselves, but as the program grows, so does the need for volunteers. If you are a CPA in recovery and willing to help others find the resources they need, please call the hotline and volunteers. Volunteers are needed across the state.
