NEWS & UPDATES

What You Need to Know About Attest Services and Peer Review

Before accepting an engagement to provide attest services in Texas, licensed certified public accountants (CPAs) must ensure that they have met all of the licensing requirements under the Public Accountancy Act (the Act) and Board Rules. CPAs in Texas who provide attest services to the public are subject to several regulations under the Act and Board Rules. Attest services include audits, compilations, and reviews. The Texas Legislature has emphasized the importance of attest services in Section 901.005(b) of the Act.

That provision states as follows:

“(b) The attest service is part of the practice of public accountancy. That service provides assurance to the public, especially the public markets, that the management of commercial entities has reasonably described the financial status of those entities. That assurance contributes to the strength of the economy and public markets of this state and to the soundness and reliability of the financial system. The strength of the financial system in this state is supported by the competence, integrity, and expertise of the persons who attest to financial statements in this state.”

Under Section 901.460 of the Act, regarding performing attest services, a certificate holder may perform attest services only in a licensed certified public accountancy firm. Section 901.351 of the Act states that a firm may not provide attest services unless the firm holds a current firm license issued by the Board. Board Rule, 22 TAC Section 501.81 also contains the same requirement. An individual CPA cannot issue attest services without having an individual and a firm license. Under the Act, a firm can be a sole proprietor, partnership, or any other business association allowed under Texas law.

In addition to the licensing requirements under the Act, a firm that provides attest services must also go through the peer review process with the Texas Society of CPAs or the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A firm must be peer reviewed if it performs an audit, review, compilation, examination, agreed-upon procedure, or any “special report” engagement performed under the Statements on Standards for Attestation Engagements (SSAE), Government Auditing Standards (GAS), the Statements on Auditing Standards (SAS), or the Statements on Standards for Accounting and Review Services (SSARS) as it applies to reviews and compilations (only). Firms are required to have their peer review administered by the National Peer Review Committee if they are required to be registered with and are subject to permanent inspection by the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (PCAOB), or if they perform engagements under PCAOB standards. A firm that performs attest services is required to enroll in the applicable peer review programs of an approved sponsoring organization within 30 days from its initial licensing date or the performance of services that require a review. The firm must adopt the review due date assigned by the sponsoring organization and notify the board of the peer review due date within 30 days of its assignment. Refer to Chapter 527 of the Board Rules for all of the Board’s regulations concerning compliance with the peer review requirement.

The issuance of any attest service without meeting the licensing and firm requirements is a violation of the Act and of Board Rules that will subject the individual CPA, or CPA firm that issued the attest service, to sanctions by the Board. In addition, reports issued without meeting the licensing and peer review requirements violate professional standards and may place the client or clients for which they are issued in peril. Government entities, entities that provide grants, banks and other financial institutions require properly issued financial statements by licensed CPA firms in order to provide services. Financial statements issued by licensees without meeting the licensing and peer review requirements should not be relied upon.

Licensees must maintain their individual license, firm license, and meet the peer review requirements in order to be in compliance with the law and Board Rules. An out-of-state firm that was previously required to be licensed by the Texas Board must be in compliance with their home state’s peer review requirements. Attestation reports issued by a non-licensed individual and/or firm are not valid and can lead to major issues for the licensee and the client. ■

Fingerprinting Updates

Almost 20,000 Texas CPAs have already completed the new fingerprinting requirement. As your renewal month approaches, you can check your individual fingerprint status by logging in to Online Services on the Board’s website. You should see either of the following messages if you are not in a retired or disabled status:

“As of today your legislatively-mandated CPA License Fingerprint Status is: Need to be fingerprinted.”

-OR- “As of today your Fingerprint Status is: Fingerprinting complete! Thank you.”

You can complete the fingerprinting process before your license is due for renewal. Just log in to Online Services and follow the instructions noted in the header. It may be helpful for you to refer to the Board’s response to these two commonly asked questions:

My fingerprints were rejected. What do I do now?

When fingerprints are processed by IdentoGO they could be rejected for various reasons. You will need to be fingerprinted again to meet the requirement, but free of charge. IndentoGO will contact you by the method you selected (email/phone/mail) with additional instructions. If you selected email, IdentoGO will send you a link to schedule another appointment.

Check your spam/junk mail folders if you don’t receive the email. Or you can call IndentoGO at 855-845-7434 for additional information. If your second set of fingerprints gets rejected, you will not need to take further action. The second rejection will allow the Board to request a name search to gather the required information from the FBI. It takes several days after a second failure to complete a name check search and to update your account at the Board. A rejected set of fingerprints will not hold up the current renewal process of your license.

Why did I have to get my photo taken when I was fingerprinted?

The Board must follow the rules of the Texas Department of Public Safety (Section 411.0845 (e)) from Chapter 411 of the Government Code, which articulates the purpose and authority to take your photo as part of the fingerprinting process. The specific Section 411.0845 (e) states:

“(e) A person entitled to receive criminal history record information under this section must provide the department with the following information regarding the person who is the subject of the criminal history record information requested:

- (1) the person’s full name, date of birth, sex, and social security number, and the number assigned to any form of unexpired identification card issued by this state or another state, the District of Columbia, or a territory of the United States that includes the person’s photograph;
- (2) a recent electronic digital image photograph of the person and a complete set of the person’s fingerprints as required by the department; and
- (3) any other information required by the department.”

The Board does not establish these rules but we are compelled to follow them. We appreciate your diligence to comply with the legislatively-mandated fingerprinting requirements. Please refer to the complete FAQ for additional information and contact the TSBPA Licensing Division if you have any additional questions. ■
